ROOSEVELT DELEGATES RECEIVE HEAVY VOTE

Sentiment for Ex-President Sweeps Charleroi Borough

RESULT BIG SURPRISE

Taft Candidates for Congress and Assembly Win Out, How the Vote Went

Nothing was ever more truly verified in summing up the result of the primary election in Charleroi Saturday than the old stereotyped expression that "the election brought some surprises." The great surprise was the overwhelming Roosevelt sentiment that prevailed in the town, when previous to the election the most astute political observers could scarcely have named six out and out Roosevelt advocates. The sentiment found expression in the vote for National anr State delegates. While the result was an even break on National delegates—one Roosevelt and one Taft delegate getting a majority, the presence of a third Roosevelt candidate on the ticket split up the vote so that the one Taft delegate slipped in. There were more Roosevelt votes cast in the borough for Rosevelt delegates than for Taft. It was the same with the State delegates. Four out of the six candidates for State delegate got a majority for Roosevelt, while the vote was split up on the other two extra Roosevelt candidates on the ticket. As in the vote for National delegates the aggregate of Roosevelt votes cast for State delegate was greater than the vote cast for Taft delegates.

In looking over the return sheets it is apparent that the Republican voters generally were actuated by the same impulse as the Irishman in a fight at Donneybrook Fair—whenever he saw a head he hit it. It was so with the voters. Wherever they saw Roosevelt's name on the ballot they marked it. And that's all there was to it. There was no organized effort to work for Roosevelt anywhere manifested, and a very light vote was polled. Only about 600 votes were polled in the entire six precincts of the borough, less than half of the registered list, and about two thirds of the average vote polled.

Outside of expressing their preference for Roosevelt where it would count the most, the Republican voters pretty generally supported what was regarded as the State administration ticket. Congressman Charles Matthews was accorded a good majority over Robert K. Aiken, while Feeney, Allison and Walker were accorded substantial majorities for Assembly. Mr. Feeney led the ticket, and the handsome vote accorded him by his townsmen shows the regard they have for his work in the previous session of the Legislature. Freeman Johnson, the Charleroi candidate for the Legislature, who had been indorsed by the Roosevelt Republicans, was also accorded a good vote by his townsmen.

The Democratic vote was so light that it was hardly representative of the party. An aggregate of about 100 Democratic votes were polled in the borough and a majority of those who voted for National delegate expressed their preference for Woodrow Wilson for President.

Socialists cast more votes than the Prohibitionists, but both fell below

NEARLY EVEN BREAK IN WASHINGTON COUNTY

Taft and Roosevelt Men Split in Delegate Contest

MATHEWS SURE WINNER

Lead by Nearly Thousand Votes in County Over Robert K. Aiken

With 104 precincts heard from the results of Saturday's primary in the county indicate that the Taft administration forces have more than held their own in the Roosevelt landslide that swept over the State. Congressman Charles Matthews leads Robert K. Aiken the so-called Roosevelt progressive candidate by over 1,200 in the county and will win in the district by a handsome majority. Hon William Feeney, Ralph M. Allison and James W. Walker, who were known as the administration candidates for Assembly, all received substantial majorities over John I. Carson, Dr. J. B. Donaldson and Freeman Johnson, who were regarded as the Roosevelt candidates

In the election of delegates to the National and State conventions the Rosevelt element is believed to have captured one delegate to the National convention and five out of the six to the State convention. James H. Cunningham, one of the Roosevelt candidates for National convention delegate gets a majority in the county while the race is close between Jas. I Eagleson, one of the Taft candidate and Owen C. Underwood, a Roosevelt delegate. It will probably require the official count of votes to determine what State delegates are entitled to sit in the convention at Harrisburg. Following is the result of returns of the 104 precincts:

Congress.

THE POPULAR WILL.

With no reflection to our Governor, our United States Senators, or our State officials generally, who are for and used their influence for President Taft, the Republican electors of Pennsylvania have overwhelmingly expressed their sentiments at the polls in favor of Colonel Roosevelt. While the wisdom of this action may be open to question under the circumstances, the fact remains that it is the verdict of the people, and as such must stand. The institutions of our government are founded upon the principles of majority rule, and a majority of the Republican electors have unmistakably expressed their preferences by ballot, and all that remains is for the minority to bow in acquiescence to the verdict, which is so decided as to admit of no question as to its intention.

A valuable lesson to the electorate of the State and to the whole nation, is the excellence and completeness of our primary law. The full scope and meaning of this law has never been realized by the voters of this State until now. While the provisions of the primary have been utilized in local and county nominations from the start, this is the first time the voters have taken full advantage of the law to dictate State wide and National nominations. They had this privilege from the time the law was enacted, but as they never took advantage of it except in isolated cases the impression seemed to prevail that the people had no voice in the State conventions which made the nominations of State officials and elected delegates at large to National conventions when such were to be chosen Now it is shown that the voters can nominate everything in the way of State officials when they are so inclined. This State wide fight has had the effect of at least showing the people that they can even dictate their party organization at any or all times.

The result will also show to the country at large the excellence of Pennsylvania's primary law. As in our State the impression prevailed throughout all the other States that Pennsylvania is dominated by political bosses who control the party nominations and that the people have no voice. It has long been known among political economists of this country that our State has the best primary law nor any statute books, but as there had never been any State wide demonstration, few took the trouble to investigate the matter. Now that Pennsylvania's primary law has been brought out in the lime light, it will no doubt be studied from one end of the country to the other.

GET BUSY.

With the State primary election over, and the general Presidential election coming on, there is no use or sense in the business or industrial world sitting down and remaining idle in the interim. There is every indication that a year of prosperity is in store for us if we all get busy and attend to our knitting. The thing to do is to work and hustle, and not talk so much politics.

There are more people in the United States than there were this time last year, all with wants to supply. Manufacturers are in need of labor, and labor is in need of employment. No matter what demagogues may say, the fact remains that there is nothing to fear. We are at peace with the rest of the world, and there is no famine or pestilence abroad in our land. Crops promise well, and all that is necessary is for the people to go to work and forget about imaginary troubles and what demagogues say is likely to happen. Why should one half of our people fear the other half? Let the business of the country proceed as though there were nothing in the way of politics to divert affairs, and all will be well.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Erasmus Wilson, the "Quiet Observer" of the Pittsburg Gazette Times, who was a recent guest of the Charleroi Community Club when he lectured at the First Christian church here, and who was one of the speakers at the second annual banquet of the Charleroi Business Men's Association Friday evening, has the following to say in this morning's issue of the Gazette Times, concerning his impressions of Charleroi:

In this period of most unusual unrest we must not be surprised if the people exercise their prerogative of changing the order of things. That there is widespread political, moral and social unrest no one can doubt.

It has been left to our neighboring town of Charleroi to show us how to get the people to stop, look and listen, before crossing the dangerous ground.

Mr. Charles O. Frye, John K. Tener Mr. Berryman and a number of business men of the town began looking into this matter several years ago. Mr. Frye kept right on the job, making taxation a special feature, a subject that appeals to all, yet less understood than almost any other.

The result of the persistent efforts of this body of business men is now a well-organized Business Men's Association, in which the questions pertaining to the welfare of the town and the general betterment of society, are discussed freely with now and then a talk by some one, who is versed in civic and social matters.

In this way the people are being educated up to the point of being able to intelligently govern and control their institutions so as to get the best possible results.

The second annual meeting and dinner of the association was held last Friday evening, there being nearly 200 present, among whom were included Gov. Tener, the county commissioners and representative citizens from all over the county and some from other counties.

The theme of the evening was the levying and collection of taxes. Mr. Frye read a most interesting as well as informing paper, in which was outlined a plan by which all will be made to bear their just and proportionate share of the cost of maintaining good and efficient government for the county and the towns therein.

In this it is asumed that taxes are necessary; also that every citizen owes, and should pay a just share of taxes. No loyal citizen will deny, nor even quibble about these assumptions, and yet many of them will quibble and fuss about paying their taxes, and if they can get out of it will not pay, notwithstanding they have admitted that it is a just debt.

There are no party lines in the Business Men's Association of Charleroi, therefore the interests of schools, and of the various institutions connected with the city, or county, or state, are regarded as being beyond and above party lines.

Judging from the reports submitted before this meeting, and from the talks of those interested, the work so far has been effective, and the town shews it, for in no other town of its size in this part of the state are there such strong evidences of civic pride, and of whole some social conditions.

John Marron of Pittsburg who had talked before a local association the previous evening in civic influences in social betterment, remained over to see if the town and the people gave they preached, and he was convinced that a great work is being done there The people are being made to understand that much abused and greatly misunderstood term "civic righteousness."

Gov. Tener's plea was to push the good work along by teaching the people the meaning of good citizenship, and demonstrating the fact that it pays to be good citizens, good in the sense of maintaining a clean town and treating everyone fairly and justly.

He would insist not only upon levying a just tax upon everyone, and collecting it, so that all may have the satisfaction of feeling a personal interest in the town, and in sharing the pride that all should feel in any good work.

Knowing the spirit that prompts the citizens of Charleroi in all they do for their town, one cannot wonder at what he sees and hears concerning it. They claim for it the title of the metropolis of the Monongahela valley and that soon there will be established direct communication with the county seat and practically every town in the county.

These people are demonstrating the fact that it pays to carefully look after the civic interests of any community.

Merit In Medicine.

The continued success of a medicine depends entirely upon its merit. For nearly forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been demonstrating its worth among women, as the greatest of all remedies for female ills, and the tremendous volume of letters on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from grateful women in all parts of the United States and Canada, are ample proof of its merit.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a good old fashioned remedy and enormous quantities of roots and herbs are used every year in making it the standard remedy for female ills.

Tener, who was in Chareroi Saturday to cast his ballot at the primary election, was an interested visitor at the show and spent an hour looking over the various exhibits. He was particularly interested in exhibitions from Charleroi business people, and expressed surprise at the completeness and extent of the show. MAM BREAKS DOWN

A Strasburg, Pa., man, Martin B. Burkhart has just had a remarkable experience. Some months ago he noticed his health failing and in spite of all he could do, soon found himself in that condition which everyone dreads—"general breakdown."

In a letter he says: "It seemed as if my health was ruined and I never would be strong again. Various other medicines did me no good but I began to take Vinol and it has done me a wanderful amount of good. I I am now as well as I ever was, have gained twelve pounds, my appetite is good, I sleep soundly and feel like a new man. All credit is due to Vinol."

He is only one of many thousands who have been built up to health by our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil. All who are broken in health, run-down, weak and nervous, should profit by his experience and regain their health by the use of Vinol. We guarantee that it will build you up and makeyou strong, your money is given back if it does not. Piper Bros., Druggists, Charleroi, Pa.

On Not Telling the Truth

"Never again as long as I live will I tell an untruth," declared Marjory, emphatically, throwing herself in a heap on the couch. "Not even the whitest of white lies. That's positive."

"And the reason for this beautiful resolution?" inquired her married sister, in whose house Marjory had taken refuge.

"It's not from any moral scruples that I have registered this vow," sighed Marjory, reveling in the wickedness of her confession, "but simply because I have come to the conclusion that lies don't pay."

"Tell me what happened when you forsook the truth," said the interested sister.

"This morning the thermometer read 101 degrees in the shade, and there wasn't any shade," related Marjory. "I had just returned home from a strenuous house party at Dorothy's bungalow, much the worse for wear. Simply exhausted and hating everybody. I flung the contents of my suitcase into their respective places, jumped into my kimono, pulled down the shades, locked my door, threw myself on the bed and sighed a sigh of contentment.

"Then the telephone rang. Such a long, vicious ring, too. As I went out into the hall to answer it I said to myself: 'If that is King George, and if he asks me to go riding in an aeroplane with him, I shall refuse. I wouldn't accept an invitation even from Bob himself, today.'

"'Yes, this is Marjory,' I told the telephone. 'Oh, I'm dreadfully, dreadfully sorry, Puss, but I won't be home this afternoon. You were coming to spend the afternoon with me? What a shame that I can't be here! I am just going downtown this minute. I have some important shopping.' That's what I shamelessly told her.

"'Going downtown?' Puss said over the phone. 'How perfectly grand! You dear, sweet thing, I know you will match some Irish crochet lace for me. We have the dressmaker here. I'll bring the sample right over.'

"Then before I could say 'Peter Pepper' that awful girl had hung up the receiver!

"Mildred Morton Morse, maybe I wasn't angry! I was furious. Here was a whole afternoon spoiled by having to rush downtown in the broiling sun to match a sample of lace, for a girl whom I see only about twice a year, and whom I don't care two straws for!

"As there was no one to open the door for Puss and her sample, I had to dress in a perfect whirlwind rush—and I [illegible] it, too. When I got downtown my hat was over one ear, my veil was over the other, my sailor collar had worked its front view to the rear, my white buckskin shoes begged for a shine, my gloves sympathized with the mistreated shoes, and my hair was done in a wad on the top of my head in a most original and unbecoming manner. The perspiration rolled in rivulets off my face. I looked hideous, that's all. My one and only fervent wish was that I might meet no one I knew.

"Well, as I stepped off the car I ran straight into Bob, Bob's mother, Bob's father, Bob's two sisters and Bob's grandmother. They were all coming from their Michigan home for some sort of family reunion, or something. Bob has been so anxious for me to meet his family, and I wanted to make a good impression on them because—well, Bob is Bob, you know.

"There I stood like a scarecrow. Bob looked at me wonderingly as he introduced me to his tribe. It seemed to me that there were hundreds of them. Though they all said, 'We're pleased to meet you, for we've heard so much about you,' I know they were thinking, 'What under the sun can Bob see in that awful girl?'

"I said good-by as quickly as I could and rushed away, disgusted with Bob, his family, Puss, myself and the whole wide world in general. Hurrying to the lace counter, I discovered that I had lost the miserable sample, so I couldn't get the lace. Then I jumped on the cab, and here I am a wreck. I come to you for any comfort you may have in stock.

"Please phone to Puss for me. Tell her that I didn't get the lace because I lost the sample, and that I am glad of it. Tell her that I didn't have any downtown shopping of my own this afternoon. Tell her that if she had a molecule of sense she wouldn't want to inflict herself on innocent people in such hot weather. Tell her that if Bob breaks our engagement it will be on her conscience, and that I hate her, anyway.

"The truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth for me! I can see already that I'm going to be very popular."

Value of Knowledge.

Officer (at distance judging practice)—Well, have you learned anything new today?

Private—Yes, sir; if you take the b[illegible] of the barrel and a man just [illegible] [illegible] yards away.

Officer—And what is there remarkable about that?

Private (after consideration) Nothin', 'cept that I didn't know it before.—Puck.

Almost A Miracle.

One of the most startling changes ever seen in any man, according to W. B. Holsclaw, Clarendon, Tex., was effected years ago in his brother. "He had such a dreadful cough," he writes, "that all our family thought he was going into consumption, but began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, and was completely cured by ten bottles. Now he is sound and well and weighs 218 pounds. For many years our family has used this wonderful remedy for Coughs and Colds with excellent results." It's quick, safe, reliable and guaranteed. CLOSES SERVICES AT LOCAL CHURCH

In his final sermon Sunday evening of a series of evangelistic services at the First Baptist church Rev. D. L. Schultz, the labor evangelist of the Baptist church, preached on the subject of our relationship to Christ. He declared that we have got to have Him in every avenue of life.

He said: "Take Jesus Christ out of society and you've got hell. What is nearer hell than some of these clubs? I'd rather have an open saloon any day than some of these clubs. They are making light of the churches and religion. They are organizations that defy the laws of God and the laws of man." He declared that in the time of youth was the time to begin the right life.

In the afternoon Rev. Schultz spoke to an audience of men on the question "What is Life?" He pictured some of the conditions that as a labor evangelist, he is familiar with. He spoke in the morning to a good sized audience.

LOCAL PEOPLE TAKE HONORS AT EISTEDDFOD

Charleroi talent occupied a conspicuous place among the winners at the second annual eisteddfod held by the Cambrian Literary society at the Monessen Opera House Saturday afternoon and night. In the afternoon individual contests Charleroi carried off the majority of prizes. Darwin Barth, the son of Dr. J. B. Barth, was declared winner of the violin solo. In the same contest Miss Norma Bosson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bosson who was disqualified by reason of an accident received most noteworthy praise and was given a prize equal to that of the real winner, by the adjudicator. Miss Georgene Parsons won second in the contralto solo. Miss Felicie Bosson was the only competitor in the recitation for children and won first honor, truly on merit. Miss Ethel Barth was the only Charleroi individual to win first honors in the evening contests, capturing the prize for the piano solo. The prize was awarded on true merits, although she was the only one who played. Warren Kinder competed for the tenor solo and was second, the winner being a Pittsburg man. Miss Edith Crill participated in the preliminaries but failed to secure a place in the finals in the soprano solo competition. Prof. J. Powell Jones of Cleveland was the adjudicator. Prof I. T. Daniel of Charleroi was the conductor.

William Lewis and mother, Mrs. Lettice Lewis are spending the day in Elizabeth with relatives.

ROOSEVELT DELEGATES RECEIVE HEAVY VOTE

Sentiment for Ex-Pressdent Sweeps Charleroi Borough

RESULT BIG SURPRISE

Taft Candidates for Congress and Assembly Win Out, How the Vote Went

Nothing was ever more truly verified in summing up the result of the primary election in Charleroi Saturday than the old stereotyped expression that "the election brought some surprises." The great surprise was the overwhelming Roosevelt sentiment that prevailed in the town, when previous to the election the most astute political observers could scarcely have named six out and out Roosevelt advocates. The sentiment found expression in the vote for National anr State delegates While the result was an even break on National delegates—one Roosevelt and one Taft delegate getting a majority, the presence of a third Roosevelt candidate on the ticket split up the vote so that the one Taft delegate slipped in. There were more Roosevelt votes cast in the borough for Rosevelt delegates than for Taft. It was the same with the State delegates. Four out of the six candidates for State delegate got a majority for Roosevelt, while the vote was split up on the other two extra Roosevelt candidates on the ticket. As in the vote for National delegates the aggregate of Roosevelt votes cast for State delegate was greater than the vote cast for Taft delegates.

In looking over the return sheets it is apparent that the Republican voters generally were actuated by the same impulse as the Irishman in a fight at Donneybrook Fair—whenever he saw a head he hit it. It was so with the voters. Wherever they saw Roosevelt's name on the ballot they marked it. And that's all there was to it. There was no organized effort to work forRoosevelt anywhere manifested, and a very light vote was polled. Only about 600 votes were polled in the entire six precincts of the borough, less than half of the registered list, and about two thirds of the average vote polled.

Outside of expressing their preference for Roosevelt where it would count the most. the Republican voters pretty generally supported what was regarded as the State administration ticket. Congressman Charles Matthews was accorded a good majority over Robert K. Aiken. while Feeney. Allison and Walker were accorded substantial majorities for Assembly. Mr. Feeney led the ticket. and the handsome vote accorded him by his townsmen shows the regard they have for his work in the previous session of the Legislature. Freeman Johnson. the Charleroi candidate for the Legislature, who had been indorsed by the Roosevelt Republicans, was also accorded a good vote by his townsmen.

The Democratic vote was so light that it was hardly representative of the party. An aggregate of about 100 Democratic votes were polled in the borough and a majority of those who voted for National delegate expressed their preference for Woodrow Wilson for President.

Socialists cast more votes than the Prohibitionists, but both feil below

Taft and Roosevelt Men Split in Delegate Contest

MATHEWS SURE WINNER

Lead by Nearly Thousand Votes in County Over Robert K. Aiken

With 104 precincts heard from the results of Saturday's primary in the county indicate that the Taft administration forces have more than held their own in the Roosevelt landslide that swept over the State. Congressman Charles Matthews leads Robert K. Aiken the so-called Roosevelt progressive candidate by over 1,200 in the county and will win in the district by a handsome majority. Hon William Feeney, Ralph M. Allison and James W Walker, who were known as the administration candidates for Assembly, all received substantial majorities over John I. Carson, Dr. J. B. Donaldson and Freeman Johnson, who were regarded as the Roosevelt candidates

In the election of delegates to the National and State conventions the Rosevelt element is believed to have captured one delegate to the National convention and five out of the six to the State convention. James H. Cunningham, one of the Roosevelt candidates for National convention delegate gets a majority in the county while the race is close between Jas. I Eagleson, one of the Taft candidate and Owen C. Underwood, a Roosevelt delegate. It will probably require the official count of votes to determine what State delegates are entitled to sit in the convention at Harrisburg. Following is the result of returns of the 104 precincts:

THE POPULAR WILL.

With no reflection to our Governor, our United States Senators, or our State officials generally, who are for and used their influence for President Taft, the Republican electors of Pennsylvania have overwhelmingly expressed their sentiments at the polls in favor of Colonel Roosevelt. While the wisdom of this action may be open to question under the circumstances, the fact remains that it is the verdict of the people, and as such must stand. The institutions of our government are founded upon the principles of majority rule, and a majority of the Republican electors have unmistakably expressed their preferences by ballot, and all that remains is for the minority to bow in acquiescence to the verdict, which is so decided as to admit of no question as to its intention.

A valuable lesson to the electorate of the State and to the whole nation, is the excellence and completeness of [illegible] meaning of this law has never been realized by the voters of this State until now. While the provisions of the primary have been utilized in local and county nominations from the start, this is the first time the voters have taken full advantage of the law to dictate State wide and National nominations. They had this privilege from the time the law was enacted, but as they never took advantage of it except in isolated cases the impression seemed to prevail that the people had no voice in the State conventions which made the nominations of State officials and elected delegates at large to National conventions when such were to be chosen. Now it is shown that the voters can nominate everything in the way of State officials when they are so inclined. This State wide fight has had the effect of at least showing the people that they can even dictate their party organization at any or all times.

The result will also show to the country at large the excellence of Pennsylvania's primary law. As in our State the impression prevailed throughout all the other States that Pennsylvania is dominated by political bosses who control the party nominations and that the people have no voice. It has long been known among political economists of this country that our State has the best primary law nor any statute books, but as there had never been any State wide demonstration, few took the trouble to investigate the matter. Now that Pennsylvania's primary law has been brought out in the lime light, it will no doubt be studied from one end of the country to the other.

GET BUSY.

With the State primary election over, and the general Presidential election coming on, there is no use or sense in the business or industrial world sitting down and remaining idle in the interim. There is every indication that a year of prosperity is in store for us if we all get busy and attend to our knitting. The thing to do is to work and hustle, and not talk so much politics.

There are more people in the United States than there were this time last year, all with wants to supply. Manufacturers are in need of labor, and labor is in need of employment. No matter what demagogues may say, the fact remains that there is nothing to fear. We are at peace with the rest of the world, and there is no famine or pestilence abroad in our land. Crops promise well, and all that is necessary is for the people to go to work and forget about imaginary troubles and what demagogues say is likely to happen. Why should one half of our people fear the other half? Let the business of the country proceed as though there were nothing in the way of politics to divert affairs, and all will be well.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Erasmus Wilson, the "Quiet Observer" of the Pittsburg Gazette Times, who was a recent guest of the Charleroi Community Club when he lectured at the First Christian church here, and who was one of the speakers at the second annual banquet of the Charleroi Business Men's Association Friday evening, has the following to ~~say in~~ this morning's issue of the Gazette Times, concerning his impressions of Charleroi:

In this period of most unusual unrest we must not be surprised if the people exercise their prerogative of changing the order of things. That there is widespread political, moral and social unrest no one can doubt.

It has been left to our neighboring town of Charleroi to show us how to get the people to stop, look and listen, before crossing the dangerous ground.

Mr. Charles O. Frye, John K. Tener, Mr. Berryman and a number of business men of the town began looking into this matter several years ago. Mr. Frye kept right on the job, making taxation a special feature, a subject that appeals to all, yet less understood than almost any other.

The result of the persistent efforts of this body of business men is now a well-organized Business Men's Association, in which the questions pertaining to the welfare of the town and the general betterment of society, are discussed freely with now and then a talk by some one, who is versed in civic and social matters.

In this way the people are being educated up to the point of being able to intelligently govern and control their institutions so as to get the best possible results.

The second annual meeting and dinner of the association was held last Friday evening, there being nearly 200 present, among whom were included Gov. Tener, the county commissioners and representative citizens from all over the county and some from other counties.

The theme of the evening was the levying and collection of taxes. Mr Frye read a most interesting as well as informing paper, in which was outlined a plan by which all will be made to bear their just and proportionate share of the cost of maintaining good and efficient government for the county and the towns therein.

In this it is asumed that taxes are necessary; also that every citizen owes, and should pay a just share of taxes. No loyal citizen will deny, nor even quibble about these assumptions, and yet many of them will quibble and fuss about paying their taxes, and if they can get out of it will not pay, notwithstanding they have admitted that it is a just debt.

There are no party lines in the Business Men's Association of Charleroi, therefore the interests of schools, and of the various institutions connected with the city, or county, or state, are regarded as being beyond and above party lines.

Judging from the reports submitted before this meeting, and from the talks of those interested, the work so far has been effective, and the town shows it, for in no other town of its size in this part of the state are there such strong evidences of civic pride, and of whole some social conditions.

John Marron of Pittsburg who had talked before a local association the previous evening in civic influences in social betterment, remained over to see if the town and the people gave they preached, and he was convinced that a great work is being done there. The people are being made to understand that much abused and greatly misunderstood term "civic righteousness."

Gov. Tener's plea was to push the good work along by teaching the people the meaning of good citizenship, and demonstrating the fact that it pays to be good citizens, good in the sense of maintaining a clean town and treating everyone fairly and justly.

He would insist not only upon levying a just tax upon everyone, and collecting it, so that all may have the satisfaction of feeling a personal interest in the town, and in sharing the pride that all should feel in any good work.

Knowing the spirit that prompts the citizens of Charleroi in all they do for their town, one cannot wonder at what he sees and hears concerning it. They claim for it the title of the metropolis of the Monongahela valley and that soon there will be established direct communication with the county seat and practically every town in the county.

These people are demonstrating the fact that it pays to carefully look after the civic interests of any community.

Merit In Medicine.

The continued success of a medicine depends entirely upon its merit. ~~For nearly forty years Lydia E.~~ Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been demonstrating its worth among women, as the greatest of all remedies for female ills, and the tremendous volume of letters on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from grateful women in all parts of the United States and Canada, are ample proof of its merit.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a good old fashioned remedy and enormous quantities of roots and herbs are used every year in making it the standard remedy for female ills.

With an attendance of about 2,500 people the electric show held by the West Penn Electric company in the rink building all last week came to an end Saturday evening. Governor John K. Tener, who was in Chareroi Saturday to cast his ballot at the primary election, was an interested visitor at the show and spent an hour looking over the various exhibits. He was particularly interested in exhibitions from Charleroi business people, and expressed surprise at the completeness and extent of the show. The exhibit was a great success and the West Penn people are pleased with the interest manifested and the at~~tendance of the people of this com~~munity.

MAM BREAKS DOWN

A Strasburg, Pa., man, Martin B. Burkhart has just had a remarkable experience. Some months ago he noticed his health failing and in spite of all he could do, soon found himself in that condition which everyone dreads—"general breakdown."

In a letter he says: "It seemed as if my health was ruined and I never would be strong again. Various other medicines did me no good but I began to take Vinol and it has done me a wanderful amount of good. I I am now as well as I ever was, have gained twelve pounds, my appetite is good, I sleep soundly and feel like a new man. All credit is due to Vinol."

He is only one of many thousands who have been built up to health by our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil. All who are broken in health, run-down, weak and nervous, should profit by his experience and regain their health by the use of Vinol. We guarantee that it will build you up and makeyou strong, your money is given back if it does not. Piper Bros., Druggists, Charleroi, Pa.

On Not Telling the Truth

"Never again as long as I live will I tell an untruth," declared Marjory, emphatically, throwing herself in a heap on the couch. "Not even the whitest of white lies. That's positive."

"And the reason for this beautiful resolution?" inquired her married sister, in whose house Marjory had taken refuge

"It's not from any moral scruples that I have registered this vow," sighed Marjory, reveling in the wickedness of her confession, "but simply because I have come to the conclusion that lies don't pay."

"Tell me what happened when you forsook the truth," said the interested sister

"This morning the thermometer read 101 degrees in the shade, and there wasn't any shade," related Marjory. "I had just returned home from a strenuous house party at Dorothy's bungalow, much the worse for wear. Simply exhausted and hating everybody. I flung the contents of my suitcase into their respective places, jumped into my kimono, pulled down the shades, locked my door, threw myself on the bed and sighed a sigh of contentment.

"Then the telephone rang Such a long, vicious ring, too. As I went out into the hall to answer it I said to myself: 'If that is King George, and if he asks me to go riding in an aeroplane with him, I shall refuse. I wouldn't accept an invitation even from Bob himself, today.'

"'Yes, this is Marjory,' I told the telephone 'Oh, I'm dreadfully, dreadfully sorry, Puss, but I won't be home this afternoon. You were coming to spend the afternoon with me? What a shame that I can't be here! I am just going downtown this minute. I have some important shopping.' That's what I shamelessly told her.

"'Going downtown?' Puss said over the phone 'How perfectly grand! You dear, sweet thing, I know you will match some Irish crochet lace for me. We have the dressmaker here. I'll bring the sample right over'

"Then before I could say 'Peter Pepper' that awful girl had hung up the receiver!

"Mildred Morton Morse, maybe I wasn't angry! I was furious. Here was a whole afternoon spoiled by having to rush downtown in the broiling sun to match a sample of lace, for a girl whom I see only about twice a year, and whom I don't care two straws for!

"As there was no one to open the door for Puss and her sample, I had to dress in a perfect whirlwind rush —and I [illegible] it, too When I got downtown my hat was over one ear, my veil was over the other, my sailor collar had worked its front view to the rear, my white buckskin shoes begged for a shine, my gloves sympathized with the mistreated shoes, and my hair was done in a wad on the top of my head in a most original and unbecoming manner The perspiration rolled in rivulets off my face I looked hideous, that's all. My one and only fervent wish was that I might meet no one I knew

"Well, as I stepped off the car I ran straight into Bob, Bob's mother, Bob's father, Bob's two sisters and Bob's grandmother. They were all coming from their Michigan home for some sort of family reunion, or something Bob has been so anxious for me to meet his family, and I wanted to make a good impression on them because—well, Bob is Bob, you know.

"There I stood like a scarecrow. Bob looked at me wonderingly as he introduced me to his tribe It seemed to me that there were hundreds of them Though they all said, 'We're pleased to meet you, for we've heard so much about you,' I know they were thinking 'What under the sun can Bob see in that awful girl?'

"I said good-by as quickly as I could and rushed away, disgusted with Bob, his family, Puss, myself and the whole wide world in general. Hurrying to the lace counter, I discovered that I had lost the miserable sample, so I couldn't get the lace. Then I jumped on the car, and here I am a wreck I come to you for any comfort you may have in stock.

"Please phone to Puss for me. Tell her that I didn't get the lace because I lost the sample, and that I am glad of it. Tell her that I didn't have any downtown shopping of my own this afternoon Tell her that if she had a molecule of sense she wouldn't want to inflict herself on innocent people in such hot weather Tell her that if Bob breaks our engagement it will be on her conscience and that I hate her, anyway.

"The truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth for me! I can see already that I'm going to be unpopular."

Value of Knowledge.

Officer (at distance judging practice)—Well, have you learned anything new today?

Private—Yes, sir; if you take the bore of the barrel and a man just fits inside, he's 500 yards away.

Officer—And what is there remarkable about that?

Private (after consideration)—Nothin' 'cept that I didn't know it before.—Punch.

Almost A Miracle.

One of the most startling changes ever seen in any man, according to W. B. Holsclaw, Clarendon, Tex., was effected years ago in his brother. "He had such a dreadful cough," he writes, "that all our family thought he was going into consumption, but began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, and was completely cured by ten bottles. Now he is sound and well and weighs 218 pounds. For many years our family has used this wonderful remedy for Coughs and Colds with excellent results." It's quick, safe, reliable and guaranteed. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottle free at W. F. Hennings' drug store.

CLOSES SERVICES AT LOCAL CHURCH

In his final sermon Sunday evening of a series of evangelistic services at the First Baptist church Rev. D. L. Schultz, the labor evangelist of the Baptist church, preached on the subject of our relationship to Christ. He declared that we have got to have Him in every avenue of life.

He said: "Take Jesus Christ out of society and you've got hell. What is nearer hell than some of these clubs? I'd rather have an open saloon any day than some of these clubs. They are making light of the churches and religion. They are organizations that defy the laws of God and the laws of man." He declared that in the time of youth was the time to begin the right life.

In the afternoon Rev. Schultz spoke to an audience of men on the question "What is Life?" He pictured some of the conditions that as a labor evangelist, he is familiar with. He spoke in the morning to a good sized audience.

LOCAL PEOPLE TAKE HONORS AT EISTEDDFOD

Charleroi talent occupied a conspicuous place among the winners at the second annual eisteddfod held by the Cambrian Literary society at the Monessen Opera House Saturday afternoon and night. In the afternoon individual contests Charleroi carried off the majority of prizes. Darwin Barth, the son of Dr. J. B. Barth, was declared winner of the violin solo. In the same contest Miss Norma Bosson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bosson who was disqualified by reason of an accident received most noteworty praise and was given a prize equal to that of the real winner, by the adjudicator. Miss Georgene Parsons won second in the contralto solo. Miss Felicie Bosson was the only competitor in the recitation for children and won first honor, truly on merit. Miss Ethel Barth was the only Charleroi individual to win first honors in the evening contests, capturing the prize for the piano solo. The prize was awarded on true merits, although she was the only one who played. Warren Kinder competed for the tenor solo and was second, the winner being a Pittsburg man. Miss Edith Crill participated in the preliminaries but failed to secure a place in the finals in the soprano solo competition. Prof. J. Powell Jones of Cleveland was the adjudicator. Prof I. T. Daniel of Charleroi was the conductor.

William Lewis and mother, Mrs. Lettice Lewis are spending the day in Elizabeth with relatives.
